

D. A. R. STATE REGENT'S REPORT

At Congress at Washington—Mrs. Buell Reviews the Year—Guide For Immigrants Has Been Widely Distributed—Reports From Norwich and New London Chapters.

(Special to The Bulletin.)
Washington, April 18.—The country report to the congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution this morning, Mrs. Buell, regent of the state of Connecticut, said: "Madam President:
"It is always a pleasure to present Connecticut's report, as this state's high standard of ideals and achievements never seem to be lowered with the passing years, but if anything is raised still higher than before."
The concerted work of the state continues bravely along the same lines as heretofore.

"Since completing our fund of $5,000 last year, our far-famed 'Guide for Immigrants' has made vigorous strides into prominence through the efforts of its author and business manager, John Foster Carr. In August, at his own expense, Mr. Carr issued the first edition of the English translation of the Yiddish book.

"This was sent out to all the important papers throughout the country and brought us many splendid tributes, both on the part of the press and from societies and individuals interested in the work. The Polish and Yiddish editions are now more than half sold. The second Italian edition is nearly exhausted. The recent English edition of the Italian book is so far exhausted that a second edition is now in press.

Italian Society Distributes Libraries. The Italian National society, the Duarte Alighieri, has sent six additional libraries which were distributed to the following six towns: Hartford, Meriden, Danbury, Litchfield and Wallingford. It is very gratifying to know that more of these books, which have been so deeply appreciated, will be available. Their presentation of these libraries depends upon the success of our work for the immigrant.

Beginning with our first feeble venture in June, 1909, the Connecticut Daughters of the American Revolution have expended $7,000 in round numbers on the publication of the book in its four languages. Surely the Connecticut Daughters of the American Revolution have every reason to be proud of having initiated and carried through a movement to success; it to themselves to remain at the head of these taking up and carrying on in every direction the work which they have started. We must not let it pass out of our hands as the guiding center of operations, for surely in a state where one in every seven of the population is foreign there is still a work as important for us to do as the raising of the funds which set the work going.

For Southern Mountaineers. Our work for the southern mountaineers has more than doubled during the past year in the amount of donations toward the maintenance of scholarships at Maryville college, the Berry school, and Berea college. The number of full scholarships has been increased from nineteen to thirty-two, besides which three partial scholarships are still being given. One of the scholarships at Maryville college has been founded in perpetuity for girl students through the gift of $1,000 by the state regent through her chapter as a memorial to a friend, this being the second memorial scholarship to be founded at Maryville by Connecticut Daughters, and from it sprang the inspiration which led to another memorial foundation at the same college by a Daughter in another state. The total sum expended has amounted to $2,825.

The fund for the Connecticut bronze doors is completed and we are announcing the full redemption of our pledge to this congress.

LOCAL HOUSEWIVES GET BEAUTIFUL SILVER TABLEWARE Snap Up Manufacturers' Offer to Redeem Soap Wrappers With Rogers' Famous Plate.

A flurry among the women of this city has been caused by a startling offer to redeem the wrapper of the famous La Corona Soap with Rogers' tableware. Women throughout the city are now saving their wrappers to replenish their tables with knives, forks, spoons, salt and pepper shakers and butter knives. The offer which has caused the excitement is being made for a short time by the Lever Bros. Co. of Cambridge, Mass.

The silver is of the new "La Corona" pattern, chosen in 1911, and is extra heavy plate. It is said to be the handsomest and most useful of the Rogers, and is an adaptation of a historic old French design. Housewives to their supply of this design of tableware from time to time, hence the attractiveness of the offer. One may have a dozen knives and forks of this pattern, for instance, and spoons of the same. The La Corona pattern may be duplicated in new spoons and added to the collection by saving in soap wrappers and sufficient postage to cover packing and shipping. The offer is being made in this pattern, for instance, is given for six Welcome Soap Wrappers and eleven cents.

A handsomely illustrated premium book, showing designs and giving full information regarding the offer, will be mailed to any woman who will write a request for a portrait of our famous La Corona Soap.

Oliver Ellsworth Homestead. The Oliver Ellsworth Homestead remains the proud possession of the Connecticut Daughters, maintained largely out of their general utility fund, or assisted by voluntary contributions from the chapters when unusual repairs or other expenses are found necessary, as was the case during the past year when nearly $200 was quickly contributed in response to a call from the Homestead's Ways and Means committee.

This year the Connecticut Daughters have honored themselves in presenting to the Homestead a fine life size portrait by the already noted young artist, Eugene Speicher, of their beloved honorary state regent and honorary vice president general of the national society, Mrs. Sara Thompson Kinney.

The needed sum, a large one, was raised almost at once, largely through individual contributions from members of every chapter in the state, a tribute of personal love and regard.

$11,000 in Memorial Work. In memorial work of various kinds, the Connecticut Daughters have surpassed, I am safe in saying, all previous records of any one year, over $11,000 having been pledged and expended by the chapters in this form of work alone, $10,000 of it by two chapters and small ones at that. Eunice Dennis Burr chapter, of Fairfield, with the Old Burying Ground chapter, of New Britain, at a cost of $5,195 and did it in one year; and Sarah Hooker chapter, of West Hartford, hoped to add to this $50,000 fund for the Noah Webster Memorial library which now lacks only $1,800 of completion.

In literary work the Connecticut Daughters have had their share, two notable books having been published at a combined cost of $1,200 by two chapters in the state, viz: a history of the Town of Cheshire, by Lady Fenwick chapter, of Cheshire, and The Honor Roll of Litchfield County Revolutionary Soldiers, by Mary Floyd Fallmadge chapter, of Litchfield, the latter being the list of 4,000 names of Revolutionary soldiers enlisting from that county whose names are on other works and records where their services may be found.

A conservative estimate places the total amount of expenditures of the Connecticut chapters on concerted state work and individual chapter work at $18,400, which is $3,000 larger than last year's total.

Called to the Life Beyond. The call to the life beyond has sounded this year for many prominent daughters of our state in the ranks of both active and honorary officers and members. One more Real Daughter has passed on, leaving behind her but four survivors of the 102 daughters of patriots which once honored our rolls. This was Mrs. Emily M. Fox of Anna Warner Bailey chapter of Groton and Stonington. Others who have died during the year are Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Smith, regent of the New Britain chapter, of New Britain; Mrs. Deborah Smith, regent of the Fairfield chapter, of Fairfield; Mrs. Cornelia Roff Pomeroy of Southport, Mrs. Henry Webb of Greenwich, Mrs. John H. Marcy of Litchfield, Mrs. Elizabeth Becker Bullard of Litchfield, Mrs. Emma J. Powe of Ansonia, Mrs. Martha Watson Pinney of Derby, Miss Ellen D. Larned of New Britain, Ellen Elizabeth Coffin, wife of ex-Governor Coffin, of Middletown.

Numbers Hardly Changed. Our losses in membership for the year have about equalled the gains leaving the society with 4,700 members, the same as last year less two. The number of chapters is still 49, though there is a prospect of at least one more being added.

The reports from local chapters follow:
Faith Trumbull Chapter. Faith Trumbull chapter of Norwich (102 members) reports the following list of contributions: $10 to the New Britain chapter, $15 to the portrait of Mrs. Kinney, $5 towards a lecture on the War Governors of Connecticut, $10 to the state fund, $20 towards the purchase of the Guide for distribution.

Under the direction of a chapter member, who is also a member of the state committee on patriotic education, 300 copies of the Guide have been distributed since September. A liberal supply of the books were placed in the public library. Copies have been given to banks where foreign deposit and have also been loaned in various offices in city halls. Many copies have been sold to pupils of the high schools.

The chapter also increased the number of its magazine subscriptions. Lucretia Shaw Chapter.

Lucretia Shaw chapter of New London (155 members) has been purchasing and working and play in the same harmonious, earnest way that has characterized her in the past. Her meetings have been attended and the interest of each member has seemed to be to promote the feeling of good fellowship and kindly service among the members. Three scholarships have been sent to Maryville college, two from the chapter and one from a member in memory of her daughter. "The Little Red Schoolhouse" where Nathan Hale taught and in which the chapter has a collection of Revolutionary and Colonial relics, old documents, deeds and books, has been maintained, cared for, and during the summer months has been open for visitors two afternoons each week with a curator in attendance. "Ye Ancientest Burial Ground" has also received the chapter's loving care; the iron fence about it has been painted, the grass kept mown, trees, shrubs and a hedge have been planted and cared for and the sacred spot reflects pride in our ancestors more than it did a few years ago when Lucretia Shaw chapter took it in hand. Then it was overgrown with poison ivy, stones were down and it was the dumping ground for tin cans and the general rubbish of the neighborhood. An appropriation secured from the city each year helps maintain it and it is a pride to the city instead of a disgrace as it was formerly.

It was thought that a trained social settlement worker would gain by it in securing information as to conditions and pointing out the most intelligent, best means of helping the poorer classes of citizens and especially the foreigners in our city, so an attempt was made to secure the necessary money to make such a trip possible. Many different organizations of the state contributed and the sum was raised. Lucretia Shaw chapter was one of the first, as she always is, anything that goes to make good citizens and better conditions for the less fortunate for New London's population.

A contribution of $50 was given for the bronze doors, towards replacing the Connecticut stone in the Washington monument $2 was given, and $2 to the Caroline Scott Harrison memorial. Forty-six dollars and fifty cents has been sent to the state treasurer for the utility—this is at the rate of 25 cents for each voting member.

Although the appeal for a contribution for a portrait of our honorary state regent, Mrs. Sara Kinney, was not to the chapter, many members availed themselves of the pleasure and privilege of giving privately and a handsome sum was realized and sent to the chairman of that committee. A flag day fete was given in the rosy month of June on the lawn of the Shaw mansion, the home of the chapter's patron saint, Lucretia Shaw. On one side of the garden a stage was fitted up and the shrubs and trees and six historical tableaux were presented and received with very appreciative applause by the audience seated about the lawn.

The chapter has contributed $10 towards the repairs of the Ellisworth homestead, and has voted $15 to have Professor Racca come to New London and speak to the Italians in the interest of the Guide, and our work with the immigrant.

Good work has been done by the patriotic educational committee along this line, so altogether Lucretia Shaw chapter feels grateful and pleased to have helped along the work of uplift and surely has earned her motto, For Home and Country.
